

Accommodation details:

Please tick accommodation required. Prices are per person not per room.		No of places ↕
Standard room NOT en-suite (single occupancy or two sharing)	Main Centre	£180
Twin bed en-suite (single occupancy or two sharing)	Main Centre/Alan Booth	£222
Double bed en-suite (single occupancy or two sharing)	Lakeside	£222
Under 25s (may request reduced rate) – see overleaf	Lakeside	£138
Saturday: price per person excludes Annual Dinner		£60
Saturday: price per person includes Annual Dinner		£78
Sunday: price per person		£60
Total to pay		£
Special accommodation
Dietary requirements (e.g. vegan, vegetarian)?

Note: there are 18 family rooms available; please enquire for prices.

Please tick if you would like an acknowledgement of your booking by post

Payment details:

I enclose a cheque made payable to 'British Trust for Ornithology' or please charge my Access/Mastercard/Visa/Switch with a total of £ Cardholder details, if different from those shown overleaf under 'first delegate'.

Card number

Valid from

Expiry date

Issue No (Switch)

Security code

Please complete in block capitals and return the form to: BTO Conference, Supporter Team, BTO, The Nunnery, Thetford, Norfolk, IP24 2PU or call us on 01842 750050
Email: membership@bto.org or book online www.bto.org/btocon2018

BTO Annual Conference
7-9 December 2018

Inspired by birds, informed by science

BTO Annual Conference 2018

The Hayes Conference Centre in Derbyshire once more plays host to BTO's Annual Conference, bringing together inspiring stories and the latest insights into our changing bird populations.

Friday evening: After drinks, sponsored by Swarovski Optik, and dinner, Professor Tim Birkhead will reveal the amazing stories emerging from his 45-year study of Guillemots breeding on the island of Skomer.

Saturday morning: James Parry uncovers the story of Emma Turner, pioneering bird photographer; Simon Gillings & Nick Moran highlight new opportunities for using technology to capture hidden nocturnal migrants; and Professor Jane Reid delivers the Witherby Lecture.

Saturday afternoon: After lunch, we'll hear about the latest BTO research, with Henrietta Pringle talking about the impacts of Pheasants on wider biodiversity; Mark Wilson charting the increasing numbers of urban Peregrines; Jenni Border talking about non-native species and climate change; and Katherine Booth-Jones using tracking technology to follow the lives of urban gulls in Northern Ireland. We also have Faye Vogely showcasing how BTO has been using social media to inspire new audiences about birds and the work of the BTO; Blaise Martay exploring regional variation in soil invertebrates and its implications for birds; and Derek Robertson, talking about connecting people and birds through art.

Sunday morning: Our final day begins with the RSPB's Linda Wilson talking about how knowledge of seabird behaviour is informing conservation in the marine environment, a topic also central to Sarah Harris and her talk about Arctic Skua tracking, and Niall Burton and his talk on windfarms and gulls. In the final session we look ahead, with Chris Wheatley looking at future climate change impacts, Mike Toms looking at urbanisation and birds, and BTO CEO Andy Clements looking at the role of volunteers and citizen science in the period covered by the government's 25-year plan. Join us there!

Other events:

Quiz, posters and displays, NHBS books, Second-hand books, art exhibition, BTO shop, competitions and raffle

7-9 December 2018
at The Hayes Conference Centre
Swanwick, Derbyshire DE55 1AU

Things you might like to know

Accommodation: Prices are for two nights full board, from Friday dinner to Sunday lunch.

Check-in: Arrival from 5pm, Friday 7 December.

Programme: The full programme, with timings and directions, will be available at www.bto.org. In order to minimise postage costs, we'll acknowledge bookings by email. If you want us to respond by post and send printed information ahead of the weekend please tick the box on the form (overleaf).

There are a limited number of reduced-price places available, thanks to generous support from a BTO member. Please email membership@bto.org if you are under 25 and you would like further details.

Cancellations: A 50% refund can be offered if you cancel by 21 November. No refund can be offered after this date, but please tell us if you need to cancel, however late, as someone else may be able to take your place.

Booking details

Booking form

Please complete in block capitals and return the form to: BTO Conference, Supporter Team, BTO, The Nunnery Thetford, Norfolk IP24 2PU (by 18 November 2018, if possible).

You can also book online at: www.bto.org/btocon2018

First delegate

Name(to appear on badge):
BTO Member? Yes/No	Ringer? Yes/No	First Swanwick conference? Yes/No
Region (to appear on badge)
Address:
	Postcode:
Tel:	Email:

Second delegate

Name (to appear on badge):
BTO Member? Yes/No	Ringer? Yes/No	First Swanwick conference? Yes/No
Region (to appear on badge):

I am willing to share a room: Yes / No

With?

Please turn over for details of accommodation and payment

Why not book online?

